PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The American Society for Legal History seeks to further its purposes and its goals through the efforts of its individual members, the work of its several branches, and the cooperation of "host" institutions in the holding of Conferences such as these. This Conference, as do all others, serves to bring together not only those members in this area but also all persons interested in our efforts, in the subject-matter of the Conference, and in legal history in general.

It is through the very kind collaboration of these sponsoring institutions that our Society is enabled to act as the sole national American medium in legal history. Our growth in terms of numbers and organization has been phenomenal these past few years. Our growth now must seek the achievement of our ends and purposes through not alone conferences but also publications, aids in research, etc. We invite participation in our endeavors by all interested people and institutions.

Morris D. Forkosch
President
